

CAREER NEWS

Hopefully your child will have applied to college or to an apprenticeship by now. If they have, they might have already heard back about their application but they shouldn't worry if they haven't yet, they will hear back in the New Year. Not all colleges are running interviews but they might be called for an interview at some point. Under the present circumstances, the interviews might be in a telephone or video format.

If your child has not applied for their post-16 education or training and they need some assistance, please in the first instance, ask them to speak to their Form Tutor. They can also speak to the Careers Team here at RMS. They can either email me on aidan.peake@rmays.com or come and speak to me in person.

Please encourage your child to complete their applications. They can apply for more than one course at more than one college and then choose the course they want to do nearer the time. Also remember that colleges are running Open Days next year which are an opportunity to speak to the tutors that will be running the courses they are interested in.

Post-16 Newsletter

The latest Post-16 Newsletter will shortly be available to view on the Robert May's Careers website (click here). It contains a range of information about colleges, apprenticeships and training courses. There are some large organisations recruiting at present so do take a look and see the type of opportunities that are available when your child is ready to enter the world of work.
